To Those Who Have Taught With Patience and Love

It is with patience and love that they have taught and they have surpassed all others. Saint Timothy's has been their second home. They have given of their time and energy. They are the guidelights that young children follow and older students remember. For the understanding they inspire, for the encouragement they have given, and for the high ideals they possess, we are thankful. It is with great respect and admiration that we dedicate the '71-'72 Warrior to Mrs. Margaret Hayes and Mrs. Marion Thompson.

ACADEMICS

St. Timothys Growth Begins on Kindergarten Level

Activities on senior and junior kindergarten levels are planned to develop all areas of growth by providing ideas, purposes and activities. Conversations, stories and informal language experiences, music, rhythms, games and all kinds of crafts are employed to promote pupil involvement. This year's pupils made field trips to a local fire station, a local dairy and creamery and to the Children's Museum in Durham. Special studies and extensive projects were completed on the Indian's and Eskimo's way of life. Experiences in the classroom included outside speakers and visitors. The new gym provided the environment for a regular program in physical education. Saint Timothy's kindergarten students participated in activities that encouraged social behavior and mental readiness.

Basic Skills Are Formed in Primary Grades

Academics initiate primary students into the study world of St. Timothy's. Visits to the legislature, planetarium, near-by museums show first through third graders the importance of subjects away from their campus world. Foreign language introduces students to even more distant lands. Class projects include taking an inside look at the solar system and developing an in depth unit on the life style of the American Indian. Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter are made festive by traditional celebrations.

Elementary Grades Emphasize Social and Intellectual Development.

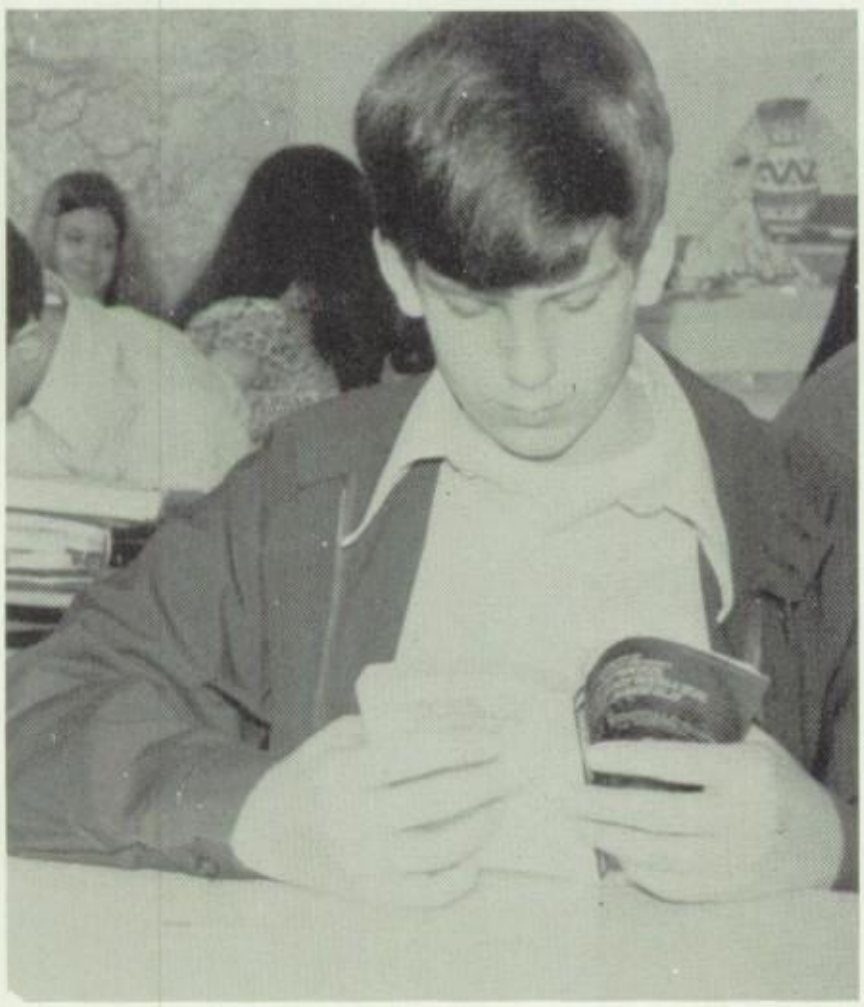
Intermediate students' classwork consists of brief assignments that have been fun to do and have taught the fourth through sixth graders a number of small facts or skills. Outstanding projects on this level include the fourth graders' play, "The Lost Colony," which was rehearsed and performed, and the sixth graders' poems which were read to music. Poems and plays contributed to individual collections of creative writing. Annual trips to New Bern, the Planetarium, the Natural History Museum, and the newspaper enriched an already varied curriculum. Fencing classes were offered weekly.

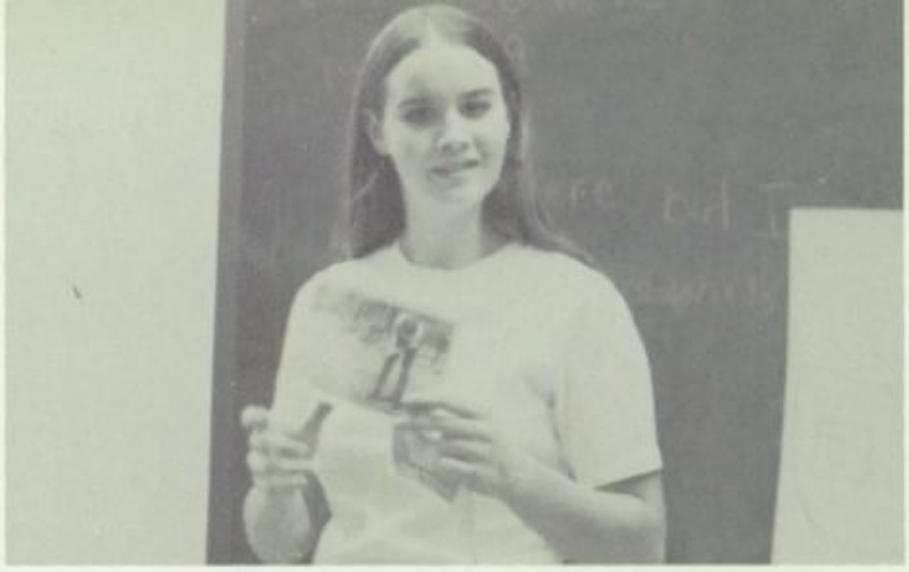
Junior High Curriculum Prepares Students

Preparation for the rigors of high school begins in the sev-nth and eighth grades. Special emphasis is placed on the anguage arts program with direction in literature and English grammar. Science classes make special use of the science aboratory. History emphasizes the Asian Countries, African ountries and the Pacific Isles. Students are offered a choice f foreign language and electives ranging from home econo-nics, art, music and special interest. Field trips are made o enhance the learning situation.

Freshmen Build Strong Foundations

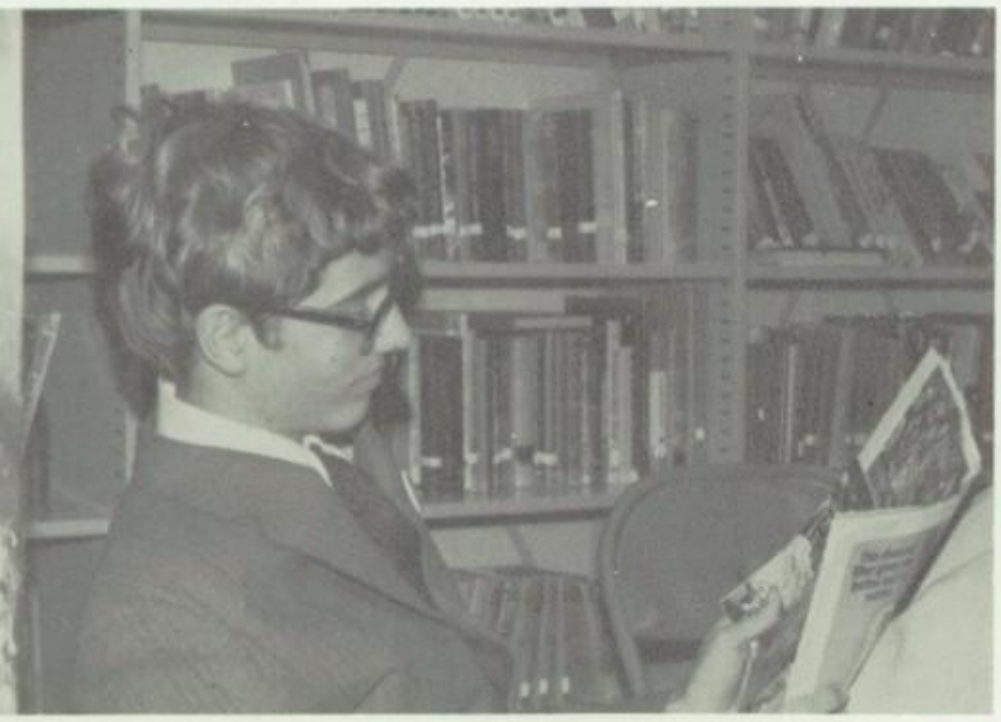
The freshman year incorporates the basic foundation of college preparation. Ninth graders are required to participate in a varied curriculum. The languages offered include German, Latin, French and Spanish on all levels of development. Physical Science concentrated on the pollution problems that our country faces today. A field trip was made to the North Carolina State University to see the reactor. A foundation in vocabulary was laid through the use of vocabulary cards. A field trip to see "Anne of the Thousand Days" afforded experience in criticizing movies. The new gymnasium provided active classes for freshmen.

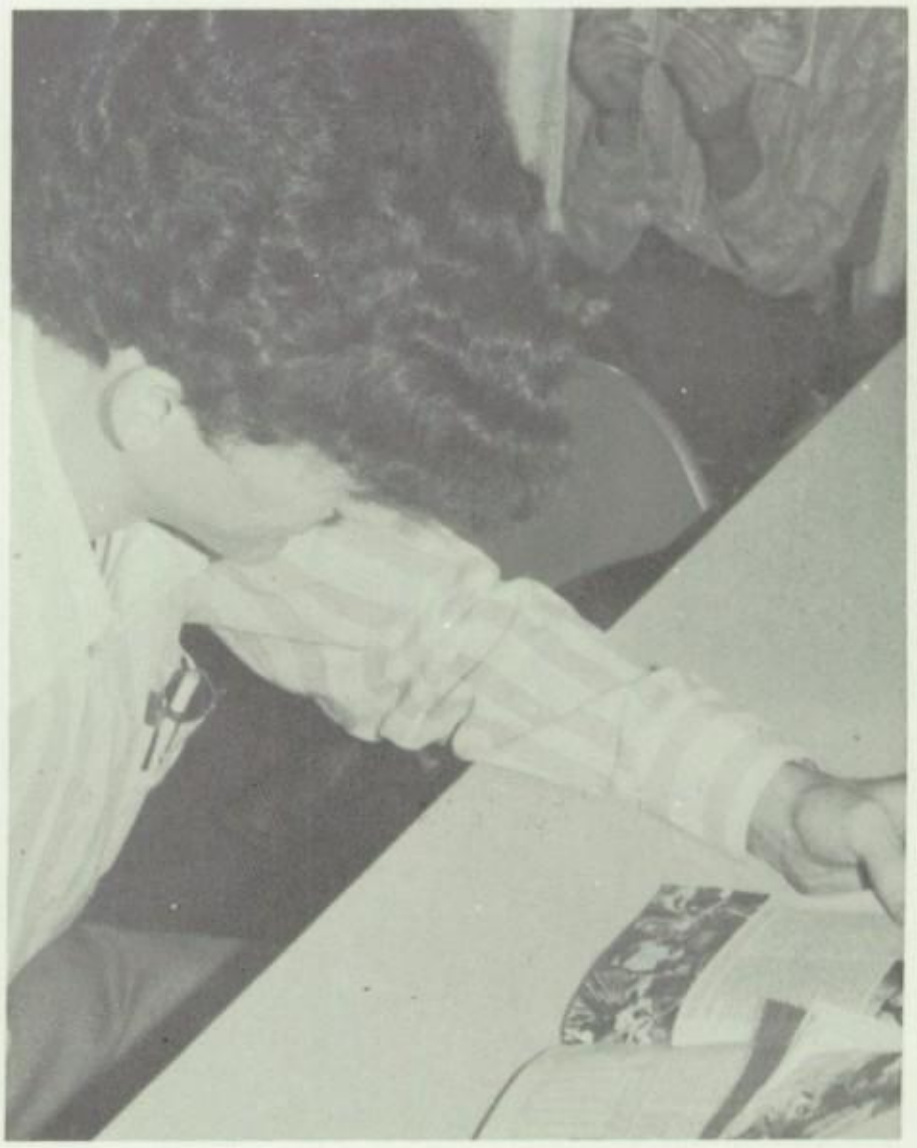




Sophomore Year Requires Studying

The sophomore class of St. Timothy's is involved in a very demanding curriculum. Biology courses enhance their knowledge of the inside world. English vocabulary words provide surprising results in everyday conversation. Geometry involves the detailed study of our technical world. Numerous foreign languages develop a more knowledgeable understanding of various cultures. The world history course is a very informative and useful study of current happenings in our nation. These interesting but challenging courses help prepare the tenth graders for everyday living.





Curriculum Prepares Juniors

The 1971-1972 academic curriculum at St. Timothy's provided an assortment of activities for the new eleventh grade. Chemistry lab was a new an exciting learning experience although it created many headaches. Also the library was the scene of research which was a requirement of the eleventh grade curriculum. Electives were offered to the students such as speech, and novel courses. Through the use of vocabulary cards, students were prepared for the tedious S.A.T.'s. College preparation took place during this most important year of high school.

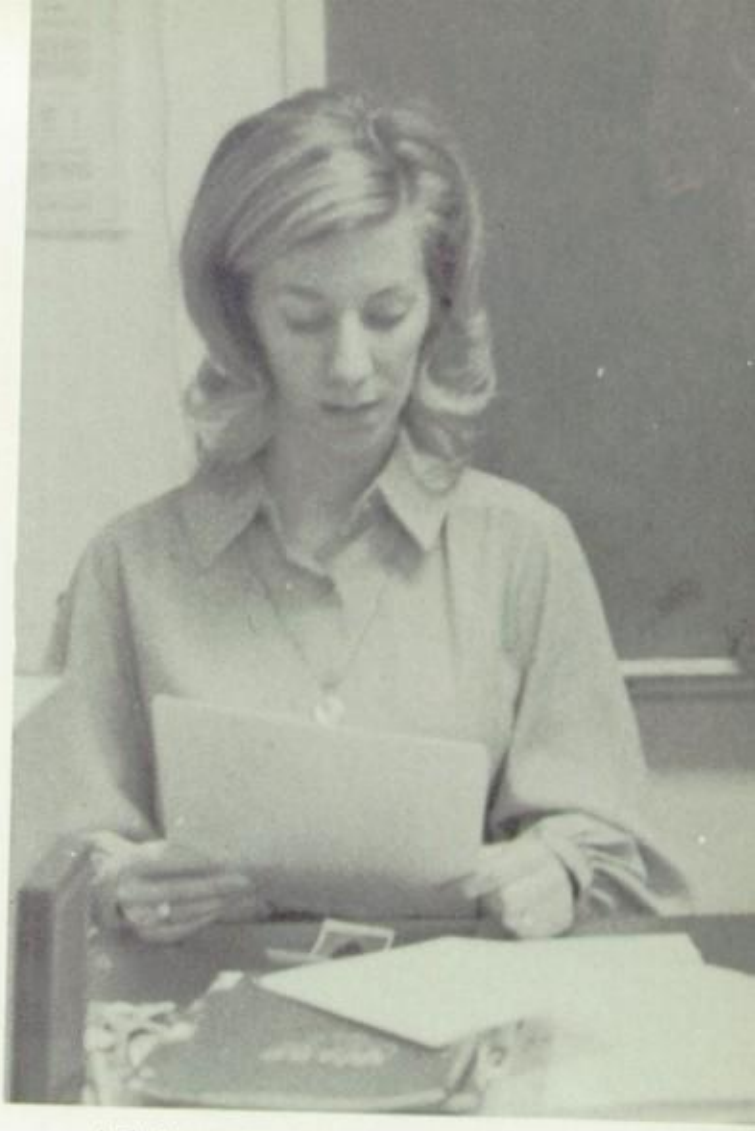
"Mrs. Daughtridge, you really don't want this picture, do you!"

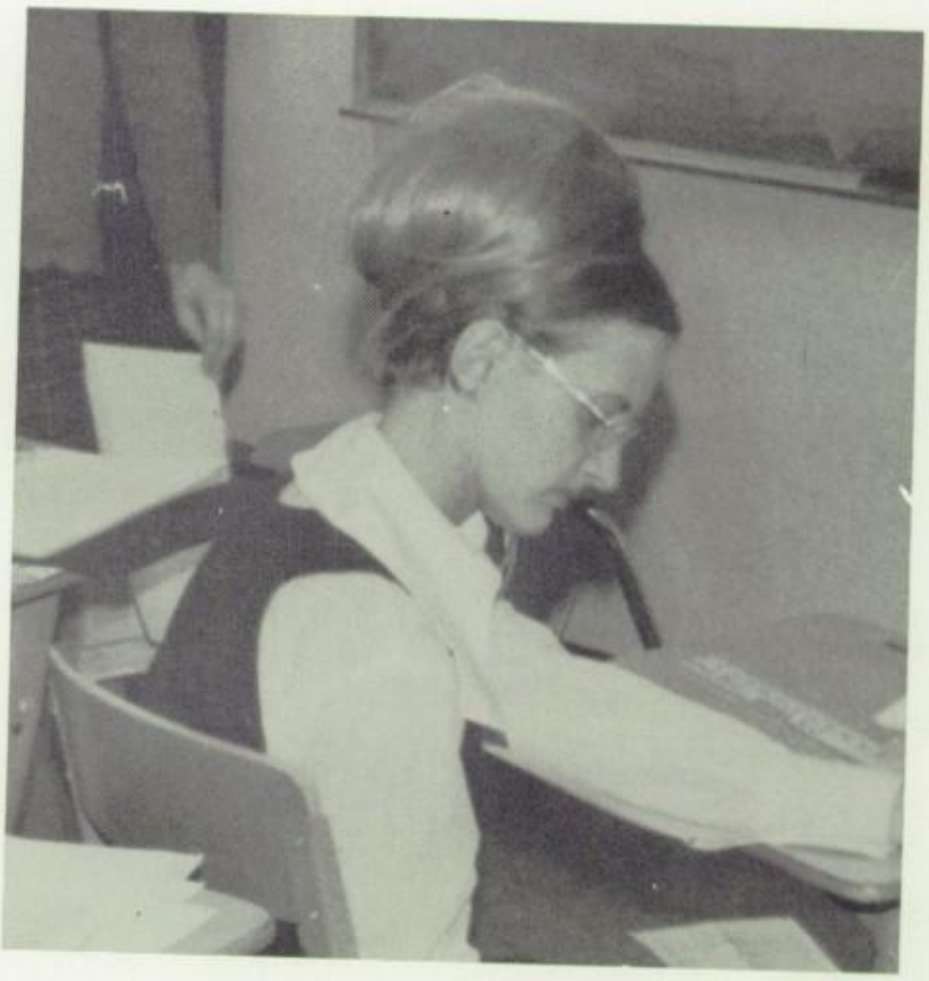
"Professional at that !!!"

With words and pictures this year's annual staff, under the advisorship of Katharyne Daughtridge, captured the rare moments of St. Timothy's. They put between covers the joyous experience of growing up, of living. All the hours of work, typing, cropping, and laying out, are transformed into a book that will be laughed at and reminisced over.



Adviser, Katharyne Daughtridge, double checks layouts before mailing.

Tom Amerson says, "Now lets see, did I put film in this thing or not."



Assistant advisor, Sharon Bell proofreads rough draft.

Le Cercle Francais

The French Club met once a month after school. They had guest speakers from France, people who were in America for a short time. One French lady spoke on skiing in the U.S.A. The club members sampled French cuisine with La Buche de Noel at Christmas, crepes, and other French foods.

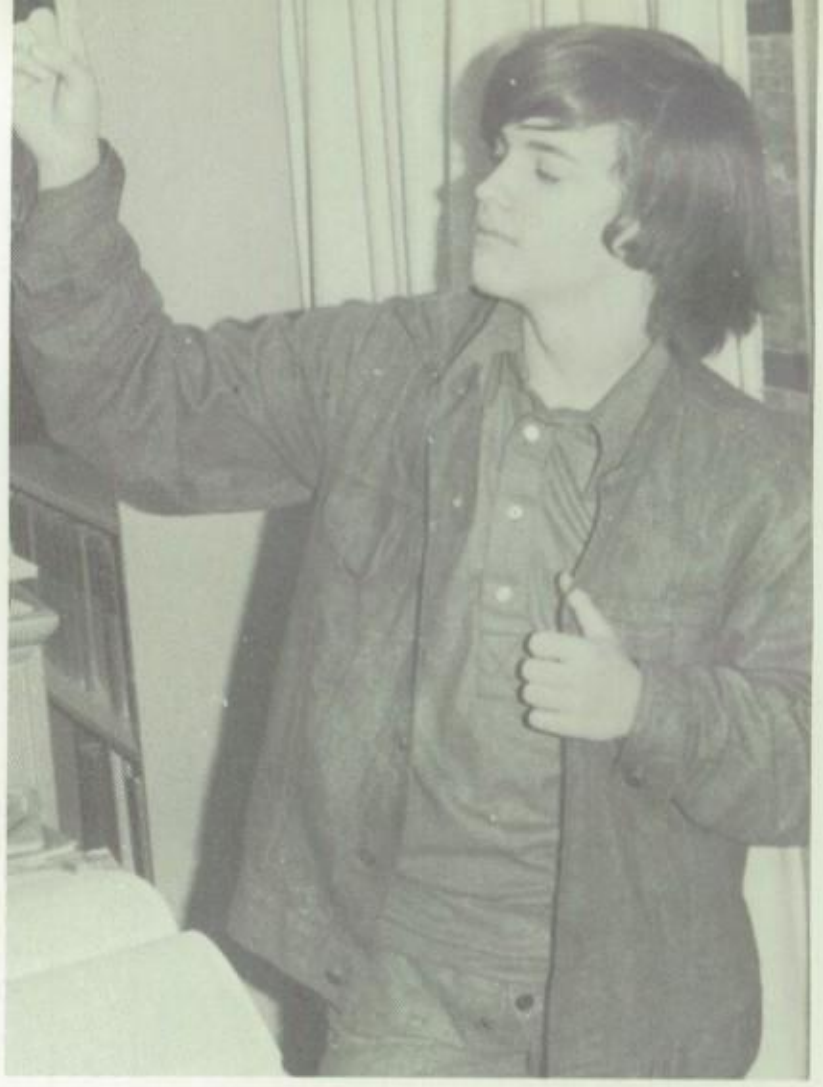
The Spanish Club was organized this year with the purpose being to interest Spanish students in learning about cultural, social and economic aspects of Latin American and Spanish life. The club's activities complement a study in the language itself.

Debate Club

The Debating Club promises to be one of the most worthwhile and stimulating activities in the senior high, after creating interest and organizing the team in its opening season. This classic sport was designed to develop the skill and test the mettle of every orator and researcher, as members of both the affirmative and negative sides have enlarged opportunity for participation, expression and contribution.

This year's national topic was "Resolved: That the jury system in America should be significantly altered." A practice run with Broughton High School familiarized the team with the techniques, fundamentals and tactics involved in a formal debate. To enter statewide competition, the Club plans to join the National Forensic League which co-ordinates the scheduling of contests.



Bill Pullen demonstrates the famous debating stance.

Angels and other biblical characters graded the sanctuary on December seventeenth. Parents were delighted to see this annual Christmas pageant.

NEW GYM ACCOMMODATES GROWING ATHLETIC PROGRAM

The new athletics program at St. Timothy's began with the building of a new gym, containing complete facilities for a well-rounded athletics program. Donations for the event were solicited through a gym fair given by faculty, students, and their parents. Later in the season, Dr. I Beverly Lake and the WKIX Men of Music completed the festivities with dedication and basketball game between D J's and faculty.

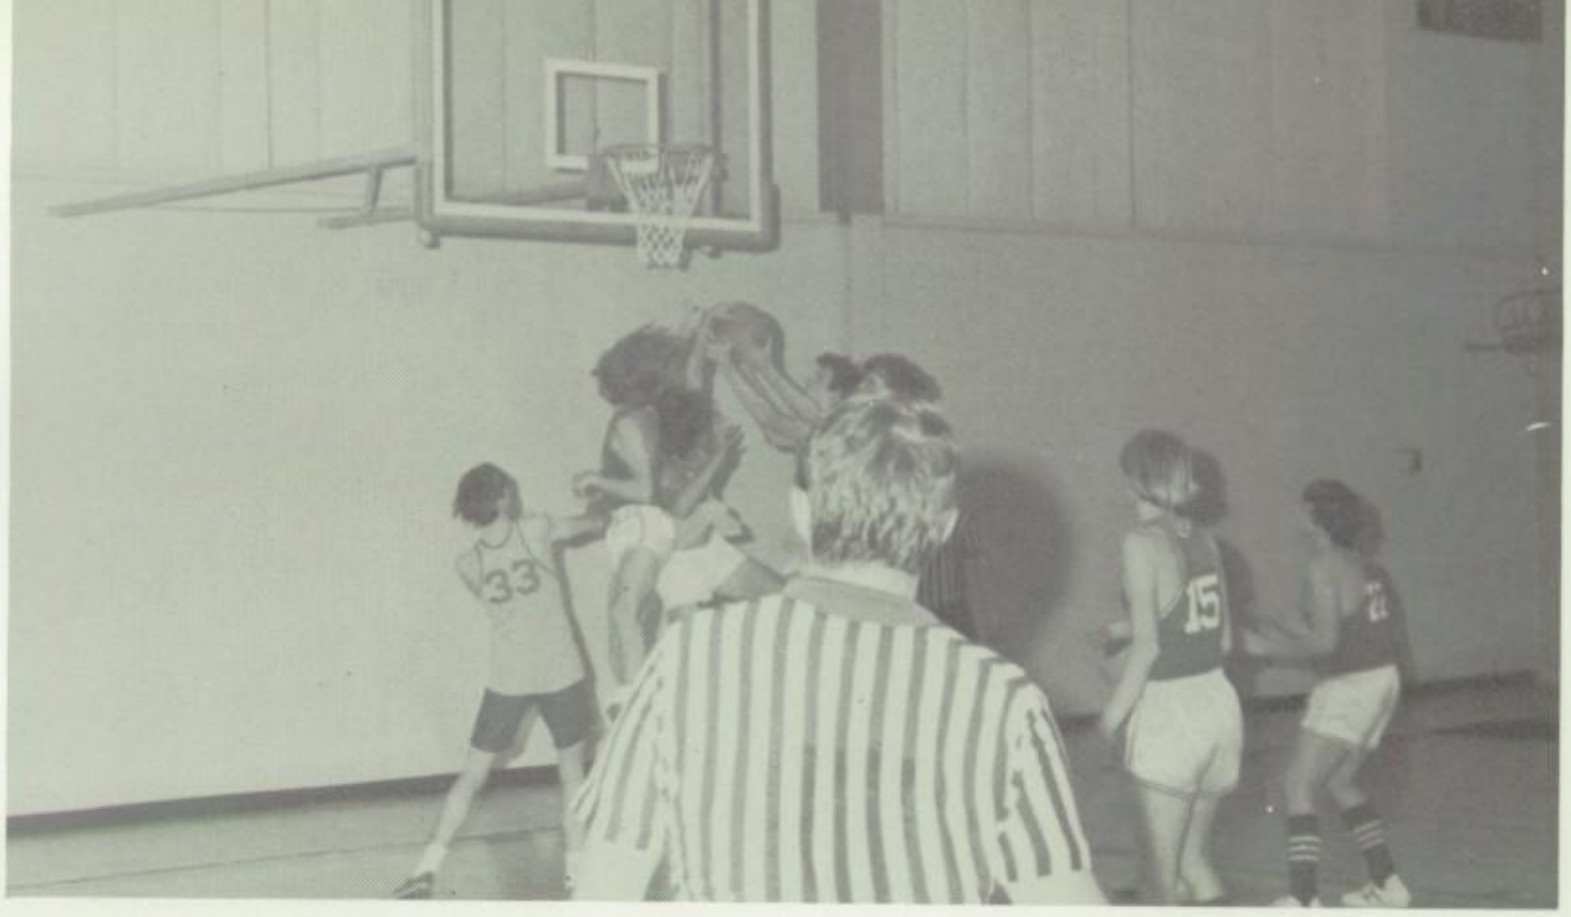
Coach - William E. Murphy



Practice began early for the newly formed varsity team. Under the guidance of Coach Murphy the team began to function efficiently. With their tough schedule in mind, the Warriors knew they would have to exert every effort to condition themselves to face the keen competition facing them. The Warriors continued to show a lot of hustle during the season and even after a few discouraging scoreboards, they were not discouraged. They returned to each game with renewed vigor and determination.

Fencing coached by Mrs. Barbra Biedenbach was opened to students from grades 4th to 11th. Training started early in fall for competition in a spring city wide fencing meet.

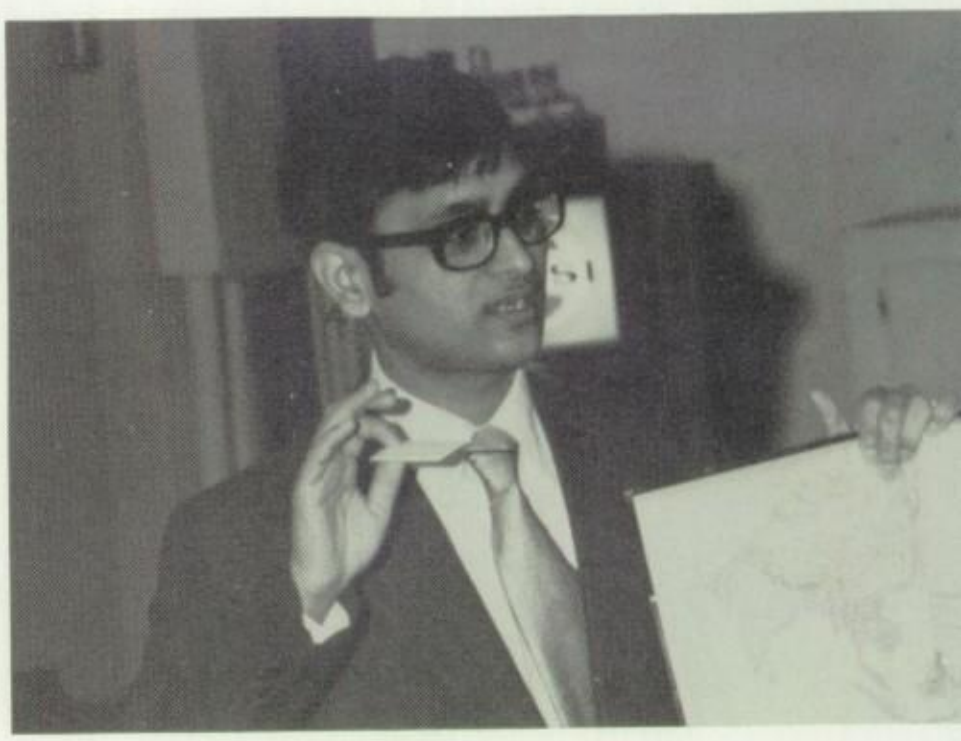
Seventh graders are prepared in the cultures of countries they plan to visit by chaperone Mr. Small.

European Travelers



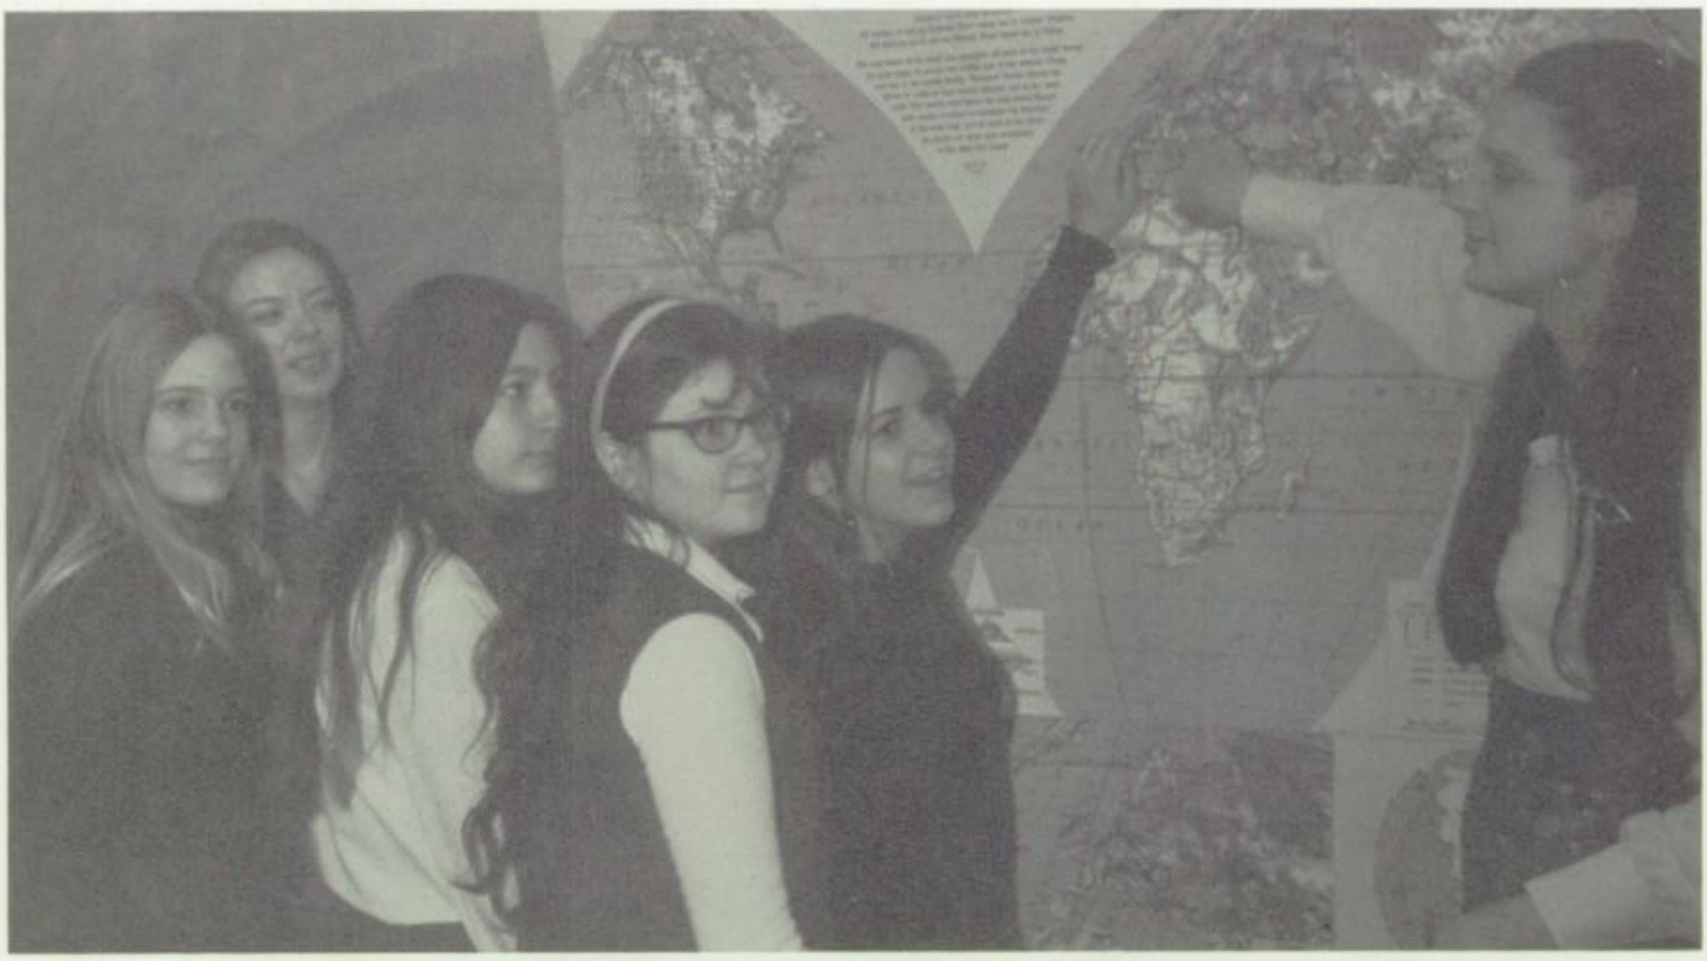
Dr. Gupka lectures students on the culture of the Renaisance countries.

Seminars were held weekly.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Small review tour arrangements.

Excitement! Travel! Europe! For five unforgettable weeks in the summer, some two dozen students will explore and learn first hand what the Renaissance in the heart of modern yet medieval Europe is all about. The trip will precede by weekly seminars in which the teacher-chaperones will lead discussions on the life, culture, economy, and language of this fascinating period of history.

One group of rising eighth graders with Mr. and Mrs. Small will concentrate on Italy, Austria, and Bavarian Germany. Another tour of older students with Mrs. Wiggs and Mrs. Leibert will emphasize France. Everyone will stay in castles, villas, and palaces, while dining as Continental gourmets. In addition, a stopover in Iceland, a brief visit to Switzerland and Luxembourg will be further highlighted by a festive 4th of July reception given by the U. S. Ambassador to Italy at the American Embassy in Rome. A true learning experience and wonderful adventure will be offered for the pure educational opportunity as well as tremendous fun.



Mrs. Marie Wiggs and Mrs. Joan Leibert show their European travelers the planned route.

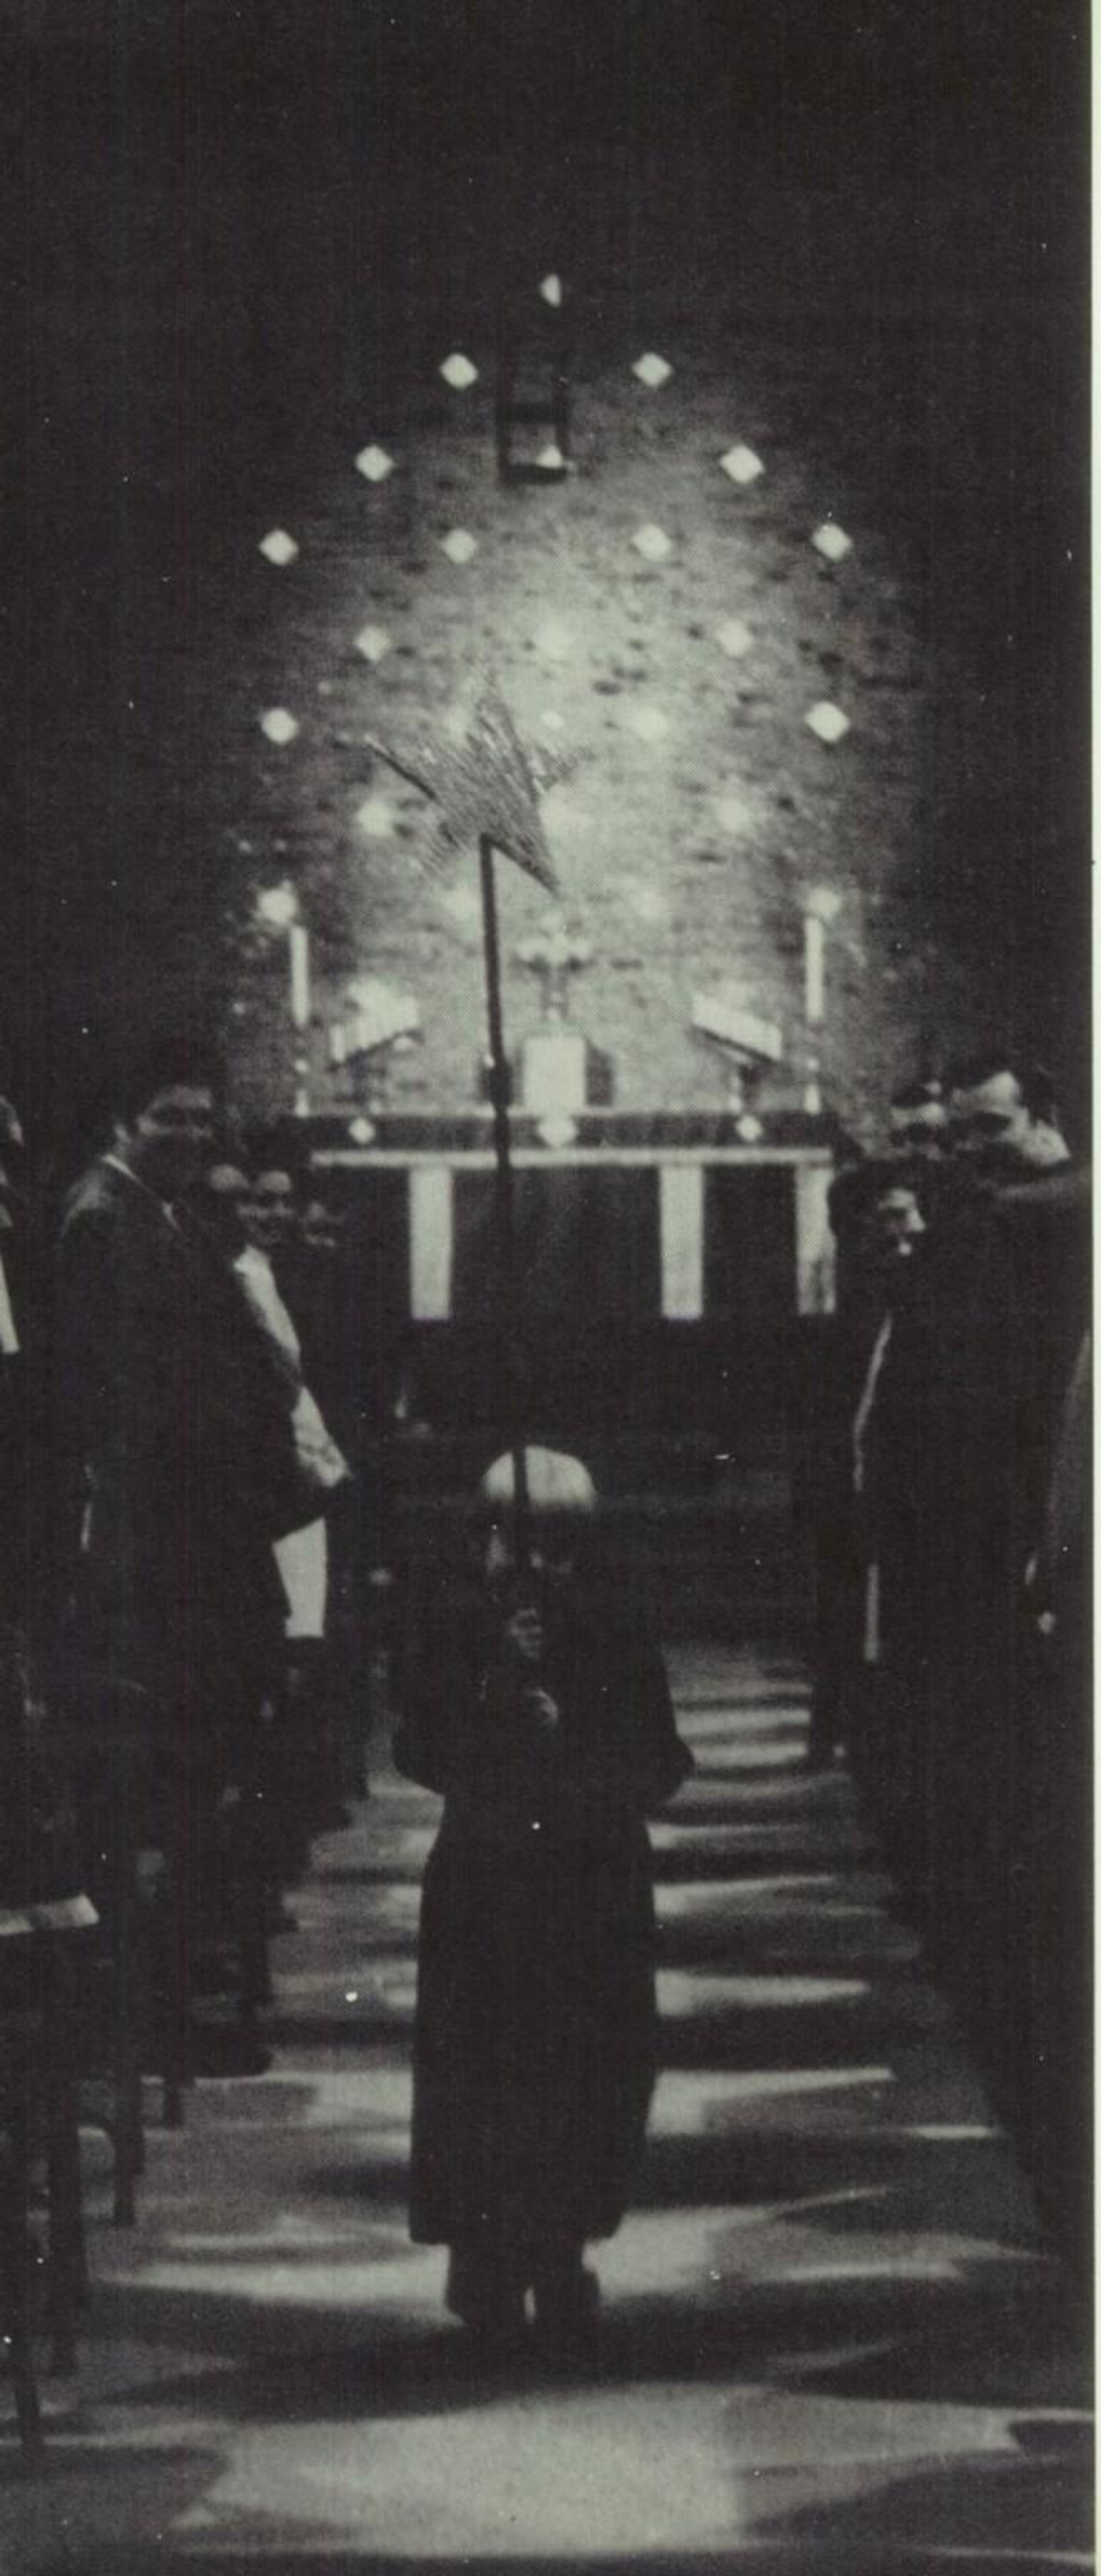
"SERVES YOU FIRST"



like time, the year passes. with the recurring feetness of each passing event, each student, as a distinct individual, gains, loses, remembers, and forgets. although he holds some scant memories of the past and plans for the future, the real assence of his life lies in the realm of one fraction of time today.

the aim of the 1972 warrior staff is to guide you into a meaningful way of design for your school life. thru the appreciated efforts of mr. pete allen & josten's american yearbook co.; katharyne daughtridge for her leadership; tom amerson and broadus rose for photography; and chuck lindner for his hard work made it all pay off remembering that "man alone is the architect of destiny."
